I tried to use for that display order by sub-clients and then count its value from the adjoined list. But the problem that the list is not visible. I want this subtotal to be more in front of the column with the values "10 clients", but I don't know how to approach this. A: In the schema you show, each client object has a list of order columns. The view needs to include the client and the columns it's connected to, plus the count of items in the associated list. `select [Clients].Name, [Order.Columns].ColumnName, [Order.Items].COUNT from [Order] inner join [Clients] on [Order].Clients_Id = [Clients].Id inner join [Order.Columns] on [Order].Id = [Order.Columns].Order_Id inner join [Order.Items] on [Order].Id = [Order.Items].Order_Id`
